Dear Torma

Where can I start? We've shared so many special events and secrets with each other. All the times we went skiing together, my tomatoe soup. Torma, I really can't find the words to describe the way I feel. Remember when we went to REO? and 3rd hour sunbathing? and bike riding on Clarkoon? Torma thanks for always being there and listening to my problems, Frank-RS and all the other things I complain about. You are fantastic and I am going to miss you greatly when you're in Europe this summer and when you're in New York for university.

These past three years have gone so fast, and you have been a major part of them. Torma - what can best friends say to each other except that I love you very much and nothing will change that. Good Luck and happiness in the future. I hope I will have a place there and if I don't it will be a special memory.

Love always Kiki

VOLUME 42

The changes in the seasons of the Colorado Rockies are reflected not only in the weather, but also in the atmosphere and attitudes of the individuals at LHS. Our goal was to capture the events and emotions of the year, specifically choosing the events which we felt were suitable for remembering.

Lorna, I'm glad we got to be friends in CC. That sounds like what everybody says but it's true and I'm not just writing it to have something to write! I can't believe we are actually graduating!! &!! You are going to be great at college. You better have fun and if you come out to see

Kiki you'd better call me.

Every person at LHS is unique and special, with a wide variety of interests and responsibilities. At times, for many, schoolwork seemed unbearable. Even so, those responsibilities that we accepted helped us grow, together as a group, and alone as individuals.

If you were looking for a number of people on your free hour, it would be very unlikely that they would all be found in one place. Students spend their time in a variety of places throughout the school and city of Littleton. Around the building, students might be found in the library, cafeteria, outside, or down by the auto shop. Usually, when students leave campus, they head for fast food places such as Jack-In-The Box, Taco Bell, King Soopers, and Winc-hell's.

Conflict—that was the word for 1980. Great chasms separated points of view on many controversial issues. The Iranian hostage crisis prompted many emotions displayed by bumper-stickers, T-Shirts signs and posters. For those who were old enough to vote, the widely publicized Independent party candidate made us take a closer look at all of the candidates. The Selective Service Registration Act directly influenced our lives because many friends and loved ones registered. Through all the conflict, the American flag, and what it stands for, held the country together.

LHS is a school of many different viewpoints. Individuals like and dislike a variety of activities, rules and responsibilities. Students and teachers share the same human interests. Differences of opinion exist about closed halls, grades, and homework, but both the faculty and the student body share their likes of music, movies, parties and other activities. Even if individuals sometimes disagree, we all have one thing in common; we're all unique human beings.

At one time or another, for each of us, many activities related to LHS affected our lives daily. Most of us took for granted and never realized who made these activities possible. Much of the responsibility lay on the shoulders of numerous staff members at LHS. We sometimes fail to realize how much they do for us each day.

WHO WON THE WEST

Third Prince and Princess were Gary Audi and Karrie Keebler.

Fourth Prince and Princess were Paul Edwards and Marci Turk.

The Homecoming royalty was chosen by the student body. A formal coronation ceremony was held on October 15, where Mr. Peter Redmond announced the results. The Littleton Singers performed for the audience, which mainly consisted of parents. The formal ceremony differed from last year, where the results were given during half-time of the football game. The event was well organized thanks to the Homecoming committee.

King and Queen were John Logan and Lucy Langstaff.

The theme for this year's Homecoming was "The West At Its Best." The entire week was filled with activities, and some students enthusiastically participated. Each day of Homecoming Week was labeled as a special day, requiring different costumes. Many students worked hard to finish their floats for the parade on Friday. The sophomore float took first place, followed by the senior float, and finally the junior float in third place. In the overall float contest, the drama club took first, and the band float was second. The parade started at the museum and ended at ACC on October 17.

ACTIVITIES OF THE WEST

The 1980 Homecoming Week was very successful. Many students participated in the various dress-up days which included Orange Crush Day, Pride Day, Dress-up Day, Incognito Day, and Cowboy and Indian Day. Other activities included the soccer game, Coronation, snake dance, pep rally, football game, and parade. And nobody could forget the Western or formal dance. Overall, everyone really enjoyed Homecoming Week.

The pep assemblies held this year were few in number but great in spirit. The fans turned out in full support for all the pep assemblies. The pep assemblies were led by Kie Ann Ellington and Paul Edwards our head girl and boy. The pep assemblies were a time for teams to present their trophies to the school. The pep band also aided in adding to the overall spirit. And of course we can't forget Jeremiah, the only live mascot in the district, was at every pep assembly. Overall the pep assemblies helped to raise spirit and get people involved in sports.

The goal of this year's Student Council was to help raise school spirit and make this year the best ever at LHS. Mr. Frank Taylor and Mr. Donald Schmitz sponsored the group which met on Tuesday evenings at 7:00. Head Boy and Girl Paul Edwards and Kie Ann Ellington led the meetings. Many of the activities planned were dances, dress-up days, Homecoming, and Prom. The council members tried to create unusual and exciting events to improve the school year.

The 1980-81 LHS Flags were led by Debbie Dunn and Cindy Sampson to a perfect score in the state spirit contest. Many hard hours were spent before and after school practicing to perfection. The time and energy spent paid off in many ways with the applause of the fans and the approval of the judges. The sponsor of the flags is Sandra Flecke and is assisted by Mrs. Sue Erickson and Mrs. Dorothy Rupel.

The poms finish with a flashy stunt for their state routine.

Through all the aching muscles, shinsplints, and headaches, the pom-pom girls created a well-coordinated group. They upheld the tradition of remaining an outstanding team. The few minutes of exciting performance were the reward for the long grueling hours of practice. Part of their success is attributed to sponsors Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. Daugherty. The girls performed at football and basketball games, and marched in the fall parades. Several of the girls also doubled as tall flags and performed at football halftimes with the band. On January 10 the group competed at the state competition in Colorado Springs. They rated Excellent out of thirty-two groups.

. . . AND THEN THERE IS "THE ROWDIES"

Mrs. Burk takes time out from chemistry to encourage the swimmers.

Jeremiah gives a proud smile; after all, he is the only live mascot in the district.

Once a month on a Friday afternoon, the gym was filled with cheerful students getting rowdie at a pep assembly.

The famous song inspired a poster for the football team at one of the first games.

Mark Thrasher poses as the latest fashion in cheering.

The Lunar Club had a good time reviving the old tradition.

The rowdie spirit took on a unique appearance this year. Students crumpled their fears of being different and went all out to be wild and crazy. The Lunar Club was revived, all equipped with incredible helmets. The Lion cub, Jeremiah, helped add enthusiasm to the LHS spirit. Although large crowds were not always present at the various athletic games, the few that went supported the teams with enthusiastic encouragement.

BOO WHO?

Students at LHS joined in the fun of Halloween by dressing up in various costumes. Although the traditional costumes showed up, many people used their imagination to come up with something different, such as magicians, saloon girls, and members of the Rock-n-Roll Army. However, the spirits must have been against the football team that evening, for even though they played a good game, they lost to Douglas County.

An unidentified sea monster appears in the halls of LHS.

DANCIN' THE NIGHT AWAY!

That good ole country feeling comes out at the Hoe-down, held on October 17, 1980.

There were fewer dances held this year, but all in all they drew fairly large crowds. From rowdie country dances to the formal Homecoming dance, students shared good times dancing in the decorated cafeteria. The relaxing atmosphere and conversation highlighted the nights, and for once school meant something else besides the usual pressures and homework. The music was provided by groups such as Round Tree, Mort Kay and the Swingers, Dynosis, and the Daletones.

Who says students are all stuffed shirts?!

THE KIDS FROM NEXT DOOR

Leena Valkama discusses life in Australia compared to life here in America.

From Afghanistan to Australia Foreign Exchange Students bravely came to America to learn the language and American culture. Most of the students felt the U.S. was more relaxed compared to their own countries. They all agreed that school here is less difficult and more easy-going. Several of the students discussed with classes their native countries, and the major differences between them and America. The students will return to their home countries at the end of the school year.

HOLIDAY SEASON BRINGS CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Band members await their turn to perform at the Christmas Concert.

Santa Claus pays a visit to LHS to see if the students have been good this year.

Mrs. Burk's AP chemistry students build a chemis-"tree."

"O Christmas Tree"

LHS Concert Choir sings Christmas carols at the assembly.

This year, there was much Christmas spirit throughout the school. Many activities were planned to help celebrate the holiday season. These activities included a Christmas Concert, which was put on by band and choir members, a chance to have your picture taken with Santa Claus, and a semi-formal Christmas Dance. Though all of this contributed to holiday spirit, everyone's favorite activity was the two week vacation granted to all.

THE PEOPLE BEHIND THE SCENES

Stacey Winterhalter wonders, "Which picture do I want?"

The 1980 yearbook staff worked very hard on making this yearbook the best ever. Many of the students worked hard, not only 8th hour, but after school as well. Mr. Kohrman sponsored it, and the editors were Stacey Winterhalter and John Best. Because the staff wished to make this yearbook exceptional, many times the class was split between two different ideas. Therefore, they learned to compromise, and incorporate both ideas into one. Even though it was hard, it was fun, and the yearbook class hopes you enjoy their effort.

Mr. Darrell Kohrman, yearbook sponsor, flashes a smile at the photographer.

"Why does it always happen to me?" says a frustrated Kathy Matthews.

Is the newspaper really this much fun? Cindy Hardin says yes with a radiant smile.

Long day, Brady?

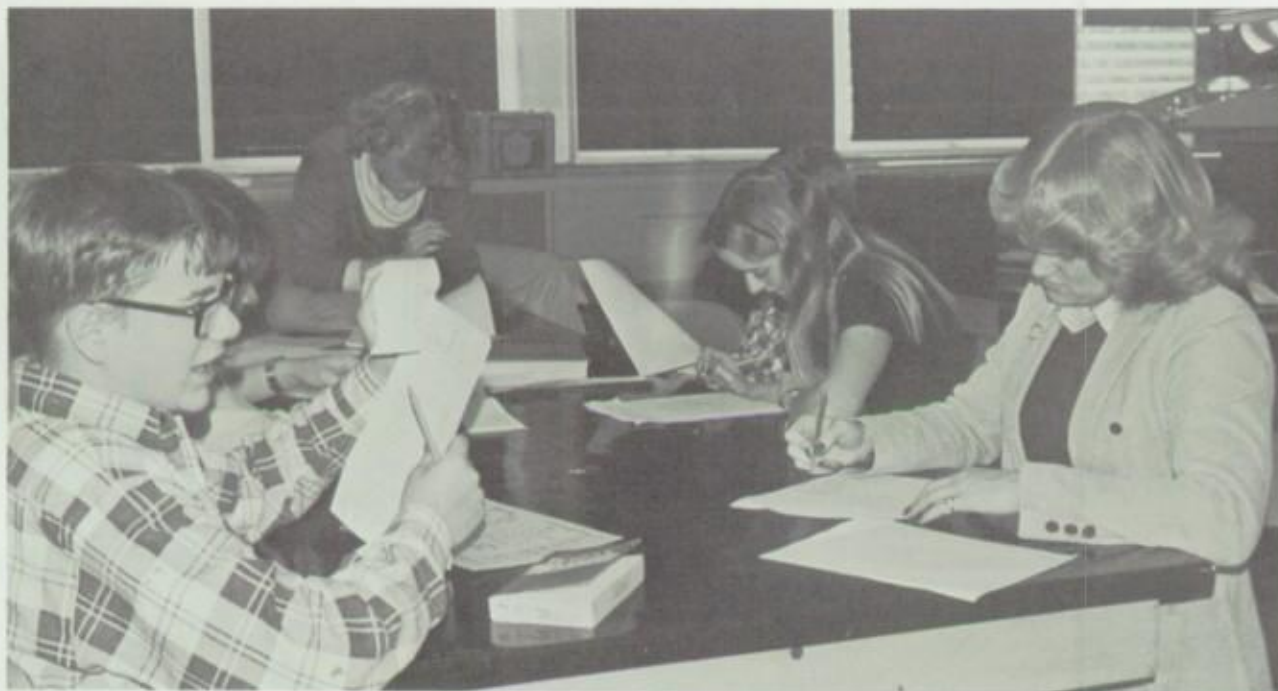

A small staff of seventeen devoted students worked hard to create an excellent newspaper. The students spent time after school and before school, as well as seventh hour, on their work; for the newspaper is a job as well as a class. Through all the frustrations and satisfactions, the students put out a team effort to make an exciting and worthwhile newspaper. They kept LHS students well informed of the various activities happening throughout the school year.

On Friday, May 23, 1980, Littleton High held their traditional Junior-Senior Prom. The event took place at the Brown Palace Hotel. Prom Royalty was announced. Following the dance, many couples returned to the school for the scheduled "After Prom" activities. A variety of activities, including swimming, bowling, and movies were offered. Breakfast was served by volunteering parents. Thanks to the sponsors and parents, the event turned out to be very successful.

Last year's graduation ceremony was a bit more dignified from those of the past with only occasional outburst of firecrackers and soap bubbles. The traditional commencement speech was given by Charlie Tickner. Yells of relief mixed with tears filled the auditorium as the graduates realized their high-school years were over.

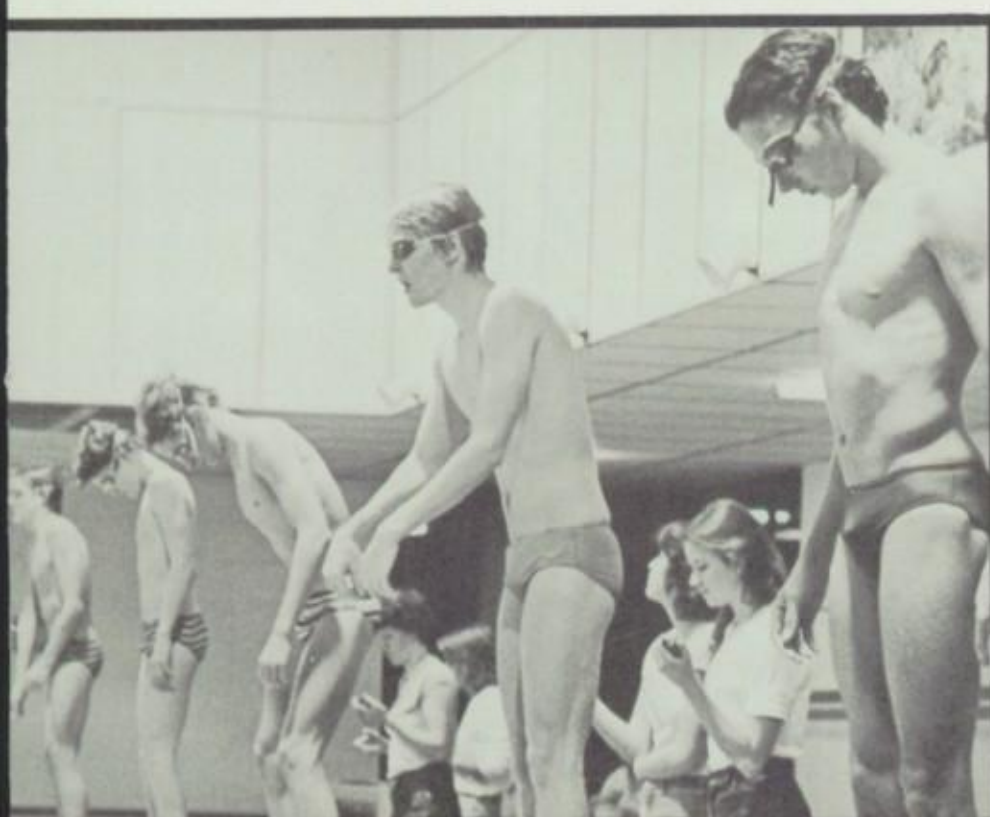

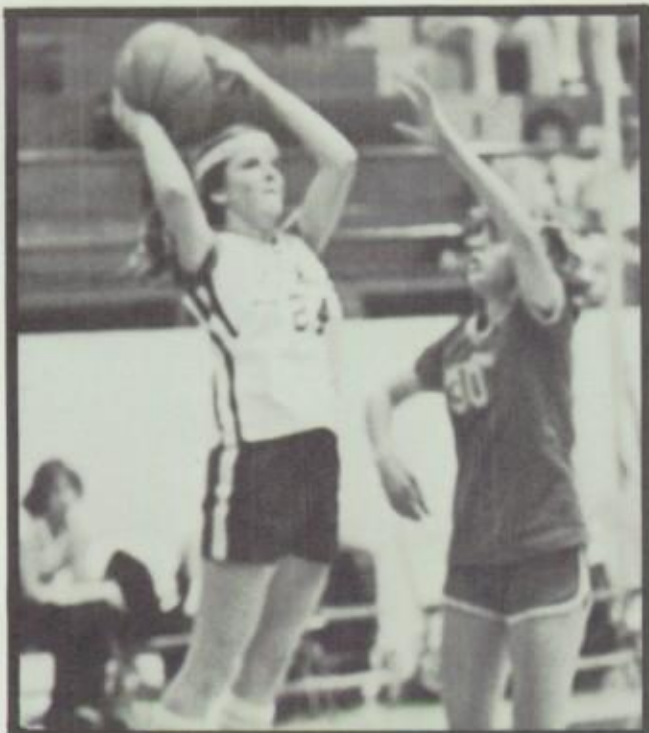

"I can't believe it!" smiles Kerry Bollendonk.

"Awww, don't cry!" sniffs Kelly Green.

The 1980-81 school year brought the many athletic teams at Littleton to the playing fields, courts and areas around Colorado. Although not always victorious, the players and coaches always gave their best effort.

Lorna,
 English would have been such a drag if it weren't for our little screwing around in our little corner. Track was a kick in the ass this year, especially the lo-ed meet we were in. OH! By the way you still owe me a steak dinner, remember!! I hope you have fun over in New England for college. I know for a fact that college life is great. You'll be parting so much that you ~~won't~~ won't know what to do. If and when you ever have a pool party you better invite me. I'm sorry this whole ~~the~~ writing sucks but I really don't know what to say in these things. Have a great summer and maybe I'll see you at some parties. But probably not because you're always traveling. Your motto song should be "On the Road Again". Keep in touch okay!

HOCKEY SKATES TO SHORT SEASON

The 1980-81 Littleton Hockey team finished the season with a 2-12 record. Highlighting the season was the upset victory over Cherry Creek, by the score of 6-3. Sophomore Rich Kennedy was the team's top scorer with 28 goals and 14 assists. This is also a new school record. The team's second highest scorer was Ty Barrett with 10 goals and 15 assists. The new coach, Bruce Oetinger, did a fine job with this year's team.

 in case you're wondering why I chose this page—It's 'cause I thought that you might like to read at the swim meet while you're reading this—I mean, just be cause you're for ERT doesn't have to mean that you don't like to look at male bodies right?—Anyhow, I especially enjoyed our little debate on Women's had a really good opening statement or a couple of your questions caught me off guard—although I did way through it—Anyhow—I injured

The Fine Arts department of Littleton High consisted of actors, actresses, musicians, and singers who throughout the year participated in a variety of performances.

In the Drama department, Mr. Foster and company produced two plays and one musical which included After the Fall, Tartuffe, and Once Upon a Mattress. On the music end of the Fine Arts department, Jazz Band and Orchestra gave us a vaudeville of entertainment while Symphonic Winds and Concert Band got together early in the year to form the LHS Marching Band. Concert Choir, Mixed Chorus, Littleton Singers, and Littleton Ladies gave their voices to Mr. Arnold who in turn gave us several quality performances including an outstanding Holiday Show.

Directed by Mr. Don L. Arnold, the Mixed Chorus was composed of forty-six students, mainly sophomores and a few juniors. During third hour, the choir practiced songs such as "Praise Ye the Lord" and "Hallelujah Chorus," preparing for various performances in the Christmas, Spring, and Pops concerts.

KEY NOTES TO MELODIOUS MUSIC

An enthusiastic Peter Pasztor participates as a choir member and an accompanist.

Consisting of forty-seven juniors and seniors, the Concert Choir was directed by Mr. Don L. Arnold. The choir practiced during fourth hour for various concerts during the year. Performing sacred pieces in the annual Christmas Concert, they also sang secular arrangements during the Pops Concert in May.

GOTTA BE A SPECIAL LADY

Practicing for upcoming concerts, the Ladies get their act together.

What is the result of combining music, talent, and charm? The Littleton Ladies, of course. During seventh hour, the choir of fifteen young ladies prepared for annual school concerts, student council activities, and appearances in social events of the community. Under the direction of Mr. Don L. Arnold, various musical numbers, including jazz, pop, and traditional pieces, were performed, combining dance steps in several arrangements.

The Littleton Singers, a select group of sixteen students, vocally demonstrated the musical talent found at LHS. Directed by Mr. Don L. Arnold, the Singers participated in about forty concerts at annual school programs, student council functions, and in several social events, including appearances at Molly Brown House and Larimer Square. A variety of musical pieces were performed with the instrumental accompaniment of Pam Lucerne, Peter Pasztor, and Maria Sinel. During eighth hour, the Singers practiced diligently for future concerts, incorporating choreographed routines.

Bruce Boll, Kris Scheurer, Tim Krout, and Brenda Eaton compose a chorus line of Littleton Singers.

"Wow! Look at that blonde in the second row!"

Arthur Miller's "After the Fall", the first play of the 1980-81 season, was a serious two-act drama about Miller, portrayed by the character of Quentin (Gary Woodall). Quentin's life is seen through flashbacks mixed with levels of consciousness. Production of the play was supplied by director Ken J. Foster; assistant director Peter C. Zimmerman, a student teacher; and stage manager, John Jamieson.

Quentin (Gary Woodall) is approached by the people of his thoughts (Denise McClelland, Debbie Morgan, Leah Berkowitz, and Ronda Edwards). Leading cast members not pictured included Emily Cantrell, Violet Rogers, Tomie Epps, Tim Krout, Brian Robertson, Mary Buck, Kim Dorr, Bruce Boll, and Chad Rusch.

Quentin is fascinated at first meeting Maggie, a character resembling Marilyn Monroe, played by Kim Dorr.

Returning from the doctor after his nervous breakdown, Mel Edison (Brian Robertson) is greeted by family members (Kim Dorr, Maggie Stewart, Deke McClelland, Susy Bierhaus, and Violet Rogers), who attempt to settle his finances.

The 1980 Spring Play, was Neil Simon's "The Prisoner of Second Avenue", a comedy about a well-paid New York executive, Mel Edison and his wife, Edna, who face various hardships after they both lose their jobs, but have the resilience and grit to survive. Mr. Ken J. Foster, director; Denise McClelland, assistant director; and John Jamieson, stage manager, organized the play.

"Once Upon a Mattress," the All-School Musical, was the satirical version of an old fairy tale, revealing the "inside story" of the princess and the pea. The hit production, presented Feb. 19, 20, and 21 in the auditorium, involved the cooperation and talent of thirty-seven cast members. Organization of "Once Upon a Mattress" was provided by Mr. Ken J. Foster, director; Mr. Don L. Arnold, musical director; and Ms. Lori Jurgensen, choreographer. The LHS Orchestra supplied the instrumental accompaniment during the successful program. Scenery and props were created for the musical by many dedicated construction crew members.

The energetic Mr. Qualls worked with student council as a sponsor and promoted the club throughout the school year.

Mr. Dick Qualls and student council were the sponsors of the Diners Club, which met 4th hour on the last Friday of every month. Members paid one dollar, which went to student council, and were assigned food to bring which contributed to the dinners of a different nationality each time. A special Thanksgiving dinner was held in which boiled wheat was served in return for one dollar and two cans of food. Four hundred dollars and one thousand cans of food were collected by LHS volunteers and distributed to needy senior citizens.

In the cafeteria, members anxiously lined up to taste the many good dishes.

ASSISTING THE COMMUNITY

*I had to have had you in my class.
You made it alot more fun.
Congratulations
David Blair*

At South Suburban Ice Arena Carol McCarthy helps a youngster.

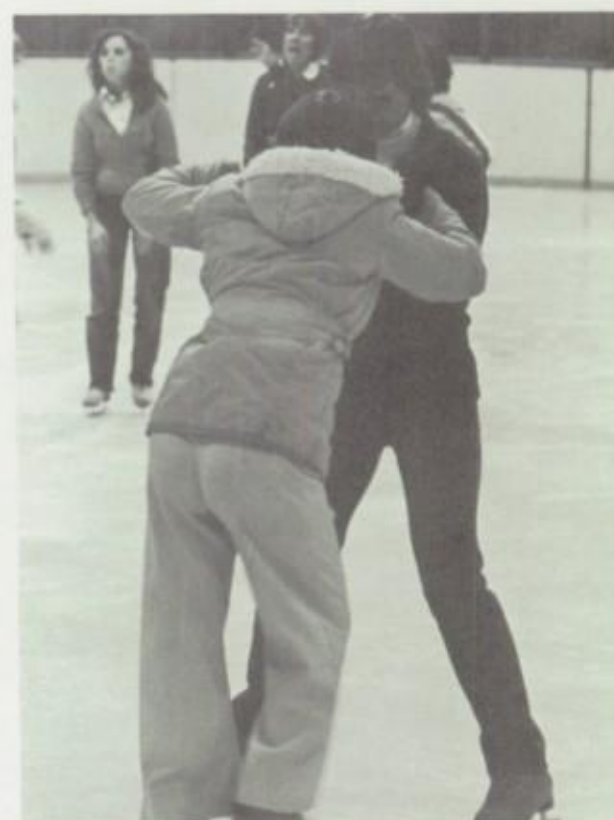

"Isn't it time to go home yet?"

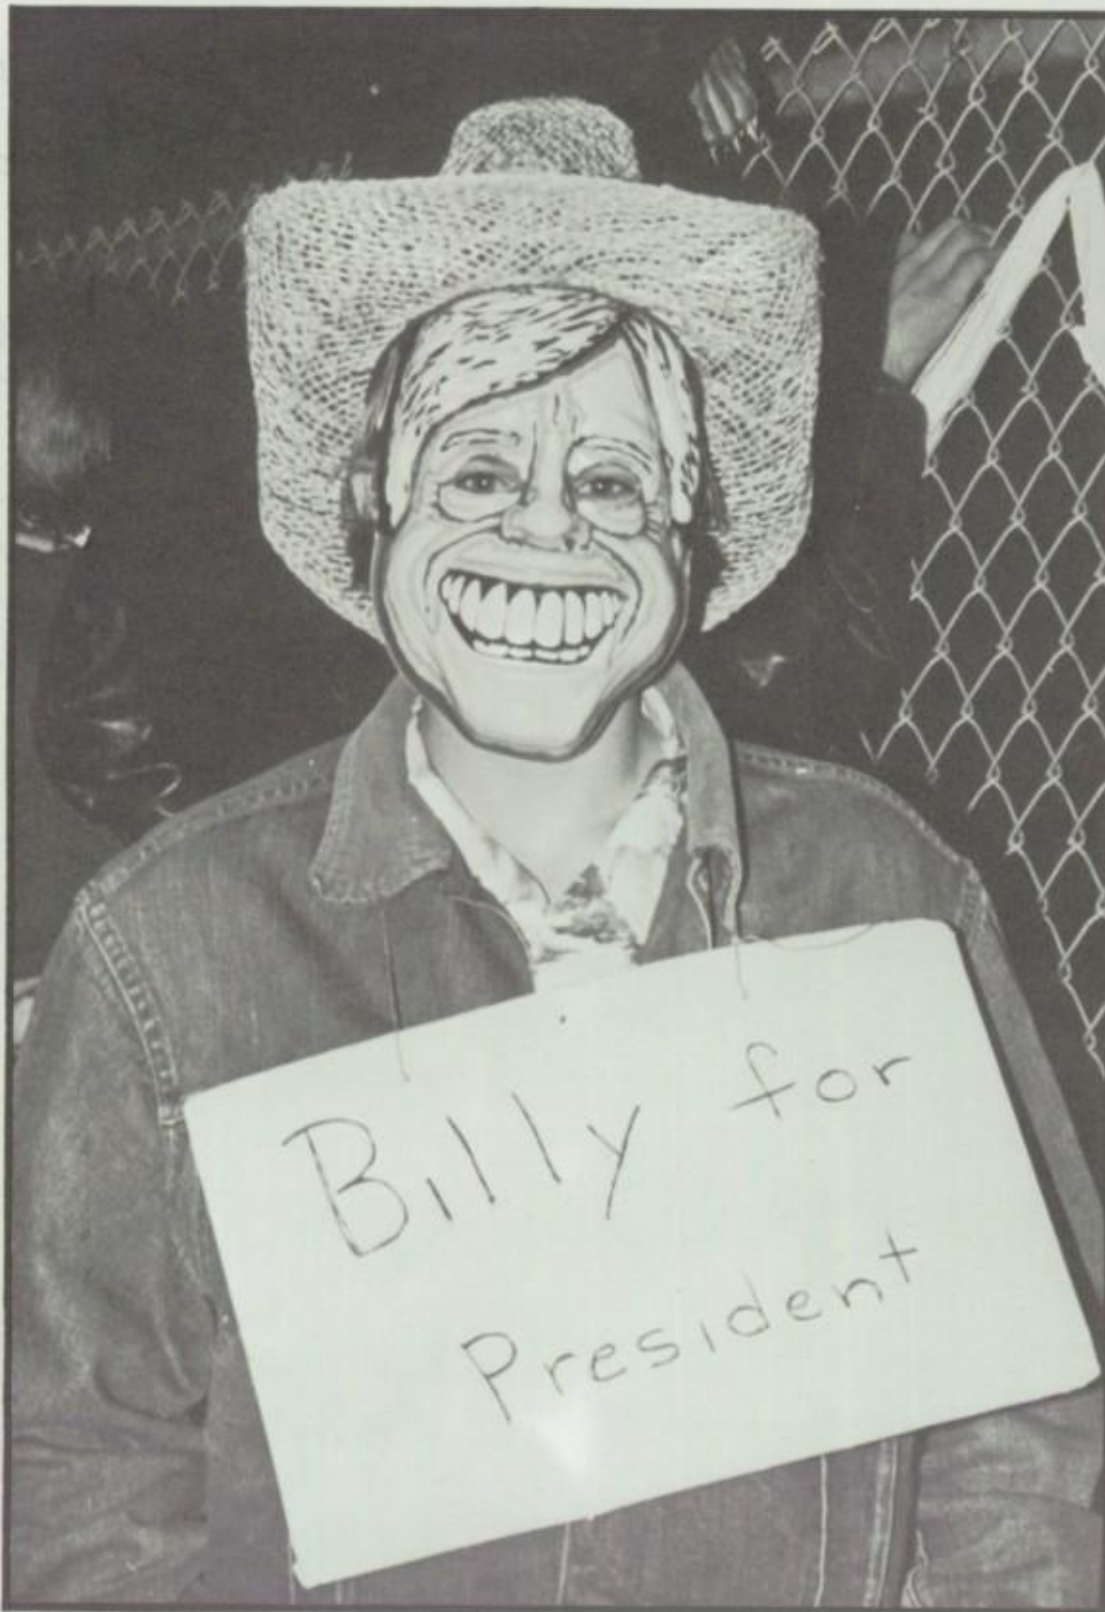

Mrs. Duame led the dedicated students involved in PPP who offered their services in the community, peer counselling, and in tutoring for LHS students at an average of 4-6 hours per week.

A student joins in on a project.

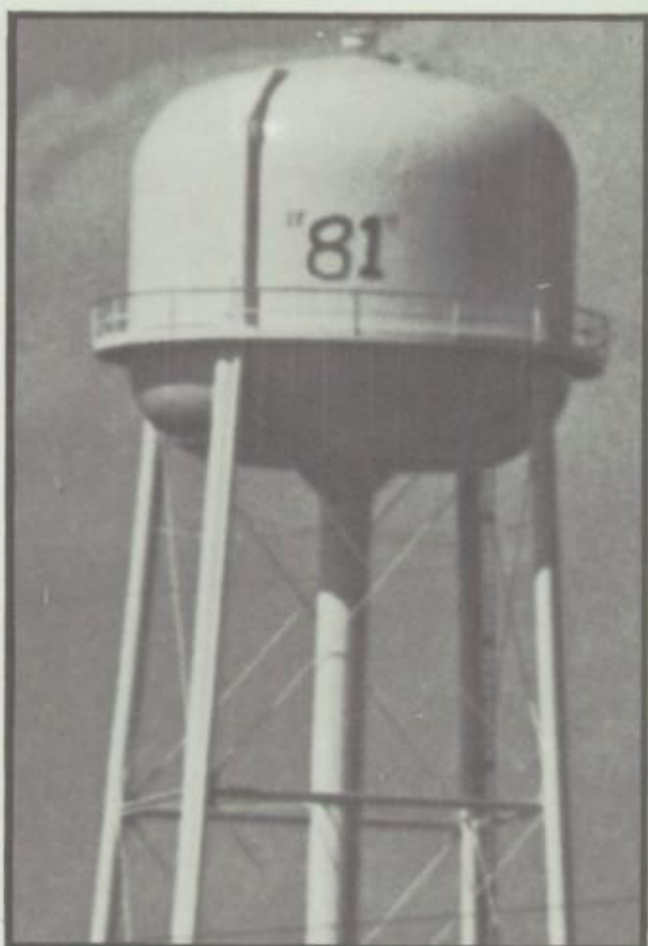

L-R; Front Row: Michelle Mirick, Aimee Wilson, Carol McCarthy; L-R; Second Row: Barb Bailey, Monica Johnson, Tina Sardinta, Mrs. Duame; L-R; Back Row: Michelle Sweeny, Robin Richmond.

Now I lay me down to study,
I pray the Lord I won't go nutty,
If I should die before I wake,
That's one less test I'll have to take.

Sorna,

Parlez-vous francais?

I still remember that line. This year has been the best. It is too bad we didn't have any classes together. C'est la vie, non? (Oh I'm witty.)

I hope you prosper in everything you do. I hope you also have a marvelous summer and a terrific college life.

Call me up sometime
& we'll do something.

148-8915 God Bless!

Love

Lorna-

I pity you poor seniors who can't stick around with us great juniors another year! It was fun having you in Eng. Lit. & Cons. Ec. You sure added something to those classes (don't ask me what) wasn't it fun to flunk Young's test & not even care? But really - you're a super, neat person & I wish you the best of luck ALWAYS!

There are several places where juniors might be found on a Friday night. Students go different places for different reasons. One might find hungry students at Burger King or other fast food restaurants. For those who are looking for something exciting, there are parties, pinball arcades, school functions, and cruising Broadway Ave. Many juniors are members of the working class, and can be found at their jobs on Friday nights. Still others spend their evenings quietly relaxing at home. Couples can often be found parking in Daniel's Park or perhaps getting together at a friend's house. On Friday nights, as one can tell, juniors can be found in several different places.

"What is a sophomore?" Here is what some students had to say:

- a part of the class of '83
- a failure from a scientific experiment
- the basis of high-school spirit
- a basis for antagonism by seniors
- a person who is more intelligent than a junior or senior
- a student who thinks he knows what he is doing, but doesn't
- a person who is beginning to plan their future
- the student who dreams about being a senior
- one who reminds me of a chicken just emerging from its egg
- someone who can always be seen, unfortunately, they are also heard
- a tenth-grader
- sophomores are great . . . just because.

On January 21, 1981 the remaining 52 American hostages were released from Iran after spending 444 days in captivity. In memory of their ordeal we wish to express our sorrow over those who died in the aborted rescue mission on April 24, 1980.

Corlionis Staff 1981.

to know what fun
it was with you in F.O.I.A. Well, Good in the future. Peace, Susan

I'm really glad that I got to know you this year. It's just to bad that I didn't meet you sooner.
Good luck in all that you do!
I know you will be very successful in what ever you attempt.
Hope to see you some time.
Have a great life!
Friends always!
Tracy

"Good Luck!"
